DETAILED ACTION

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 14 and 15 are directed to a computer implemented method of calculation in accordance with a mathematical algorithm. Claims 16-17 are merely reciting a computer program for implementing the method. In order for a claimed invention that is directed to such a method of computation or a computer program embodied in a computer readable medium for implementing a computation to be statutory, the claimed invention must accomplish a practical application. That is the claimed invention must transform an article or physical object to a different state or thing, or produce a useful, concrete and tangible result. State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373-74, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02. Also see "Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility", OG Notices: 22 November 2005. It is clear from claims 14-17 that the claims merely involves calculations and manipulations of data in performing computations. The claimed invention does transform an article or physical object to a different state or thing. The inputs are numbers and the output is also a number. The result of the invention is merely numerical value without a practical application recited in the claims that makes it a real world result. Thus, the result is not useful, concrete and tangible. Therefore, the 14-17 are directed to non-statutory subject matter as the invention as claimed fail accomplish a practical application. The recitation “encrypting or decrypting data” which appears only in the preamble of the claims 14 and 15, is a mere field of use limitation that does not render the invention statutory.

3. Claim 1-13 are allowed.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
